Was Wedding Ceremony of Miss Verna Pickens and Mr. Maurie Boston.-Entrancing Scene.

At the Methodist church in this city on Tuesday afternoon Nov. 17th, at 1:30 o'clock the marriage ceremony of Miss Verna Adair Pickens, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Pickens Sr. and Mr. Maurie Nunn Boston, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Boston all of this city, was celebrated before a distinguished audience, of relatives and friends of these popular young people, which completely filled the vast auditorium and wings of the great edifice, which is so admirably adapted for such occasions. It was a yellow and pink wedding and the decorations which were profuse, were in these colors, huge bouquets of yellow and pink chrysanthemums being everywhere in evidence, the altar, chancel and balconies being completely hidden and in a most artistic and attractive way. Miss Sarah Woods presided at the organ and delighted the assembling audience with an "Overture of Tancrèdi" by Rossini, after which Mrs. Marshall Jenkins rendered "Chant du Berger" by Monsieur de Colas, on the Italian Harp followed by "Twilight Reveries" by Paul da Cella, also on the Harp the rich full tones of which filled the church.

A "Sextette from Lucia" by Miss Woods on the organ, completed an anti nuptial musical programme of exquisite sweetness which entertained the audience until the arrival of the bridal party, which was announced by Miss Woods with "Lohengrin's bridal chorus" as Mr. Willard Utley, of Eddyville and Miss Katherine Yandell proceeded to the chancel by different aisles, passing and passing in front of the altar. They were followed by Mr. Douglass Clement and Miss Madeline Elizary and Mr. Wm. Mayo Nunn and Miss Madeline Jenkins in same manner, the attendance forming in two on each side of the altar making a pretty picture as one would be to see at the entrance to an conventional place.

Born in the hills of old Caldwell, this rising and distinguished young attorney has had his ups and downs, especially in his boyhood days in an effort to obtain an education, and as everybody knows, from observation, it is no easy thing for a boy reared in the plow shares, to secure more than an ordinary education. However, by a determined effort, Elliott Baker is one of those who did his best, and as a result, he was soon in the school room, not as a pupil, but teacher. It was at this point he decided that he would like to be a lawyer, believing that he could make a better lawyer than a teacher, so he entered the study of law, at Lebanon, Tenn., and like many who have attended the noted old institution of that city, he secured his diploma, and came back home and after being admitted to the bar for the practice of law, he became a full-fledged lawyer.

Shortly after entering the practice of law he was elected City Attorney of Princeton, and served in a most satisfactory way, and believing he could make better County Attorney than a City Attorney, he asked for that office, and is now serving his third term, in a way that has proved satisfactory to his constituents, as in the case of aspiring to the County Attorneyship, he believes he can make a better Commonwealth's Attorney, hence his announcement in this issue of his home paper for that office.

During his official career he has developed into a good speaker, and has claimed the cause of the Democratic party, not only in his home county, but in various sections of the State. He is clever orally, and prominent fraternally.

As Democrat of the truest kind, we recommend him to the Democracy of the Fourth Judicial district as worthy of careful consideration, and bespeak for him, if nominated and elected, a record as Commonwealth's Attorney none will have cause to criticize. Princeton Leader.

Miss Louise Taylor the beautiful little niece of the bride was the flower girl and as she tripped fairy like down the aisle she scattered roses in the pathway of the bride. At the same time Master Samuel Guggenheim who was the ring bearer proceeded to the chancel and he and little flower girl stood on either side of the officiating clergyman Rev. Henry V. Escott who had approached from the rear and had taken a position in front of the altar where he stood awaiting the arrival of the high contracting parties.

The bride who was queenly in her elaborate wedding dress entrained wore a flowing veil of tulle and bridal wreath of orange blossoms and carried an immense bouquet of brides roses. She was accompanied by her maid of honor Miss Lucile Kirkpatrick, of Greenville, Ky., a strikingly

FOR COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY

J. ELLIOTT BAKER.

With this issue we are authorized to announce the Hon. J. Elliott Baker, our popular County attorney, for Commonwealth's Attorney of this, the Fourth Judicial district, comprising the counties of Hopkins, Caldwell; Crittenden and Livingston.

Most all our readers are well acquainted with Elliott Baker, some possibly better than the writer, but for the benefit of those of the district who do not know him as they should, it is but right that we, in a way, give a sketch of him in order that all may know something of his ability and worthiness, especially since he is, so far, the only Caldwell countian offering for a district office.

Born in the hills of old Caldwell, this rising and distinguished young attorney has had his ups and downs, especially in his boyhood days in an effort to obtain an education, and as everybody knows, from observation, it is no easy thing for a boy reared in the plow shares, to secure more than an ordinary education. However, by a determined effort, Elliott Baker is one of those who did his best, and as a result, he was soon in the school room, not as a pupil, but teacher. It was at this point he decided that he would like to be a lawyer, believing that he could make a better lawyer than a teacher, so he entered the study of law, at Lebanon, Tenn., and like many who have attended the noted old institution of that city, he secured his diploma, and came back home and after being admitted to the bar for the practice of law, he became a full-fledged lawyer.

Shortly after entering the practice of law he was elected City Attorney of Princeton, and served in a most satisfactory way, and believing he could make better County Attorney than a City Attorney, he asked for that office, and is now serving his third term, in a way that has proved satisfactory to his constituents, as in the case of aspiring to the County Attorneyship, he believes he can make a better Commonwealth's Attorney, hence his announcement in this issue of his home paper for that office.

During his official career he has developed into a good speaker, and has claimed the cause of the Democratic party, not only in his home county, but in various sections of the State. He is clever orally, and prominent fraternally.

THE SCHOOLS OF CRITTENDEN

Are Congratulated by Prof. Charles Evans, Who is Still Interested in Our Education.

The following are extracts from a letter from Dr. Charles Evans, president Central State Normal School, Edmond, Okla., to one of Crittenden county's teachers:

"Permit me to congratulate you on the splendid work you are doing at the School Tournaments and Fairs this year. The country school is the hope of America.

The brain and brawn of the people who live near the soil, have made or unmade all the nations of the past; they will continue to make or unmake the nations of the future. The farmer or one who tills the soil, and perhaps the miner bringing the mineral resources of the nation to light are the only producers. The hope of the earth must lie in the enlightenment and master power of these. Therefore, it is axiomatic that if any shall have education; if any people must have the best school houses and the most capable teachers, these must have them. They have had the poorest thus far. This is because they have lacked in leadership. Poor pay, poor training begot poor teachers, while apathy and sloth fell down about the schoolhouse and school desk of the country child; but the light is breaking. A new day is on and I am pleased above measure to know that in Crittenden county a great fire of interest an enthusiasm has sprung up. This is due to its teachers going out for more training to universities and normal schools and coming back with enlarged vision and replenished zeal.

The best blood in the nation runs in the veins of such teachers and when they see things like this they proceed to put them into execution. So have arisen these comparative tests, contests, school fairs, athletic meets, declamatory contests and intellectual struggles of every sort.

It has been my pleasure to keep in touch with Crittenden county education all my life, but never before has there been such evidence shown to me that the whole country is afire with interest and fast moving to the front for school betterment as is presented now.

Please present my high tribute to the teachers for carrying out the things they undertake. Say to the teachers of the county that they promised that they would keep their educational zeal burning before the people through the Crittenden Record-Press. Do not forget to beg them and pray them in my name to keep this up as teachers and leaders of their respective communities. Away out here in Oklahoma, I read every item of school news, and when your big double headlines flashed forth about the "School Fair," I fairly shouted, "Great Ceaser, I must go!"

Take this message to my friends of former days, say to them they are accomplishing more than they know. Tell them to keep up this Community Center Work. Let them make every school house a blazing light attracting the people through spelling matches, school fairs and contests of every kind. Out of this well grow renewed interest, better salaries and modern buildings and apparatus."

Mrs. Clara Brown, of Tolu, was the guest of her brother, Dr. J. D. Threlkeld, last week. Mrs. Brown spent the summer in Colorado and only recently returned home.

CROWN PRINCE WAVERED AND LOST BATTLE

Failure of Heir to Hold Center Forced A Retreat of Entire Line. Six German Princes Killed.

FLED TO THE FATHERLAND

Russians Have Enveloped the Left Wing of the Austrian Army.—Big Battle Near Poland.

OTHER WAR ITEMS OF INTEREST

London, Nov. 18.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Daily Mail sends the following:

It is now admitted semi-officially but not yet mentioned in the official communications that it was in the failure of the German Crown Prince to hold his position in the center which compelled a retreat along the whole line.

While Gen. von Hindenburg on the left and the Austrians on the right were both maintaining their positions, the Crown Prince army was fleeing back to the Fatherland.

The Russians poured in between the wings thus left in danger and attacked them, each on two sides, forcing them to scramble back to the frontier and losing terribly all the way.

The excuse made in Germany of bad roads is ridiculed here since, altho bad roads, the Russians accomplished marvels in marching. The Russians, unlike the Germans, do not depend upon the resources of the country they are traversing, but bring ample provisions with them.

It appears that six Germans Princes were killed in this battle three of the Lippe family and one each of the House of Hesse, Waldeck and Reuss.

To Ask for Troops And Loan.

London, Nov. 18.—It is reported to the parliamentary bodies that Premier Asquith will ask Parliament's sanction for the raising of 1,000,000 additional troops for the purposes of the war.

Much interest is shown in the financing of the war. It is understood the Government intends to issue a war loan of $1,000,000,000 or more, probably at 4 per cent, and redeemable within ten years. It is estimated that Great Britain is spending $35,000,000 weekly on the war, and in addition to the war loan the Government may propose to raise a further $250,000,000 by increasing the income tax to half a crown on the pound. This would provide for the necessary expenditure till next March, the end of the financial year.

Annihilated By Servians.

Nish, Servia, Nov. 17.—via London, 11:57 a. m.—The six battalions of Austrian infantry, with quick firing guns, which crossed the Danube near Szerevo, under cover of artillery fire on November 9, having been annihilated by a Servian counter attack, according to official information given out in Nish today.

All the men not killed, wounded or drowned in the Danube fell into our hands, the Servian announcement continued. We made 2,000 prisoners and cap-

A Triumphs Of Peace.

While Europe is being torn and ravished with sword and canon, the states of our Union are being drawn into closer fellowship. The very knowledge of the awful carnage abroad arouses a feeling of mutual sympathy and dependence among our own people.

The "Buy a Bale" movement is the expression of this feeling in a practical effort to relieve our brothers in the cotton States from a distressing condition brought about by a foreign war. One of the agencies that has contributed in a large measure to the success of this movement is the Chamberlain Medicine Company, Des Moines, Iowa. This Company is accepting cotton at ten cents a pound from the dealers of the Southern States, in payment of accounts, both old and new, and is thereby enabling scores of dealers to pay their old accounts, and replenish their depleted stocks.

But this Company has not confined its sympathies and support to our own shores. It has headed a movement to send a shipload of cornmeal to starving Belgium. Iowa is the greatest corn producing State in the Union, and this year has one of the largest crops in the history of the State, and the farmers are receiving the highest price known for years. So the Chamberlain Medicine Company proposes to the people of Iowa that they celebrate Thanksgiving this year by sending a shipload of golden grain to the widows and orphans, to the homeless and helpless of Belgium. They have contributed the first carload toward making up this shipload and have taken the matter up vigorously with the Governor of Iowa, and with the various interest concerned, and have also proposed to President Wilson that the federal government furnish a vessel for the free conveyance of the food.

HOW FAR IS MADISONVILLE?

Not So Far That the Statements Of Its Residents Cannot Be Verified.

Rather an interesting case has been developed in Madisonville. Being so near by, it is worth publishing here. The statement is sincere—the proof convincing.

L. R. Woolfork, Madisonville, Ky., says: "I had severe attacks of backache. Often when I sat in a chair for awhile and tried to get up, sharp twinges caught me across my back and kidneys. In the morning it was impossible for me to stoop to put on my clothes. I had other symptoms of kidney complaints. I was induced to try Dean's Kidney Pills after reading statements given by people here in town, whom I knew, who had received great relief from them. I got a supply and they cured me. I always carry a box of Dean's Kidney Pills with me and a few doses now and then keep me in good health."

THE ENDORSEMENT.

In February 23, 1912, Mr. Woolfork said: "I have sold out to use Dean's Kidney Pills since they cured me some years ago. You can use my endorsement of Dean's Kidney Pills."

Price 50cts., at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy; get Dean's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Woolfork had. Foster-Millburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. 111926

Kaiser Rushes Men East.

Rotterdam, Nov. 17.—According to the Courant's correspondent, great bodies of German troops are being withdrawn from Belgium for use against the Russians. Our correspondent says:

"Many trains carrying cavalry, infantry and artillery have left Brussels and Louvain for Germany, with the cars marked in chalk: 'To Russia!'"

CRAZE FOR ELEPHANT SKIN

Leather Manufacturers Are Finding It a Hard Matter to Meet the Increasing Demand.

Elephant skin is very beautiful. Moreover, it is durable. But it is hard to get.

The price of a large elephant is not small, and, besides that, elephants do not grow within a stone's throw of our front doors. So the leather manufacturer that contracted to furnish many elephant-skin bags at a given time would probably find himself under a big burden. He must wait until some time, perhaps, to speak, dies.

Elephants are unusual enough, so that many of them, after they die, are stuffed and put in museums. Hence a named elephant, one that has been popular during life, will seldom fall into the hands of leather dealers. It is for the poor and wandering denizens of the circus and traveling animal shows to end up on the counters of the fashionable leather goods shops.

Such is the fate of half a dozen elephants that were overtaken in the awful floods in Indiana last spring. They were purchased by one of the famous dealers in silver and leather goods and converted into many wonderful bags and other trinkets. Among these are small elephants covered with real elephant hide, with ivory tusks, standing on little ivory slabs.

DIRIGIBLE BALLOONS.

The dirigible balloon is by no means a modern invention as many people seem to think. As a matter of fact, as long ago as 1781 General Menusier proposed the construction of an elongated balloon which might be propelled through the air.

Experiments were made with it by two brothers named Robert, who made several ascents and attained a speed of three miles an hour, though the method of propulsion was only neural power by hand. Nothing further was attempted until 1852, when Henri Giffard built dirigibles which, by means of a light steam engine, he propelled at nearly seven miles an hour, and since then various experiments have been made which ultimately ended in the wonderful triumph of Zeppelin. — New York Press.

THE CRITTENDEN RECORD-PRESSWOMEN AND THE RIGHT TO VOTE*Should Be Given Time to Exercise Franchise.*LITTLE TROUBLE FOR THEM

By VERA BOARMAN WHITE-HOUSE.

ONE objection made to woman suffrage is that women will not have time to vote. Miss Alice Buck, representing the anti-suffragists, and speaking as a working woman before a congressional committee in Washington, December 1912, said: "We do not want the vote principally because we feel that we have quite enough to occupy our time now, regardless of politics."

Joseph G. Pyte in a letter read before the same congressional hearing explained that for the farmer's wife "voting is a hardship too great to be endured. Aside from the preliminary preparations, she must go to the polls, often in inclement weather, VERA BOARMAN WHITEHOUSE walking or riding several miles to get there," but, above all, it is the wife and mother living at home, whose domestic duties are supposed to leave her no time to vote.

The view that voting takes a very great deal of time seems to be a general one among the anti-suffragists, but men who vote assert that the actual time spent in a polling booth, even at the most crowded election, does not exceed half an hour and is usually not more than ten minutes.

Elections Infrequent.

Elections are not daily or even frequent occurrences, so these objections to women voting would seem to suggest. In some places the municipal, county, state and federal elections are all held on the general election day—the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November. In other places the local elections are held in the spring. There are at times special elections, as, for instance, the recent one of April 7 here in New York state to determine whether or not there should be a constitutional convention. Such special elections are rare and seem to arouse little interest.

There are also, since the passage of the law providing for direct nomination, primary elections, at which the elected members of each political party ought to vote. But when every kind of election is taken into account, the most conscientious citizen is not called to the polls more than two or three times a year and the actual time spent in voting does not exceed at the most liberal allowance an hour or two a year.

All men of course do not vote. In the presidential election of 1900 the total number of those voting was less than 1,000,000 while the number eligible to vote was over 21,000,000. The proportion of men voting at this election was somewhat smaller than at the preceding ones.

It is not lack of time, however, that keeps so many men from the polls. It is rather lack of interest. No business or work can be an excuse for this duty of the duty of citizenship. The thirty-five states election day is a grand holiday, on which no business is conducted.

A Large Class.

Working women now form a very large class in this country. It is estimated that there are about 500,000,000 of them. They would have, of course, the same facilities for voting as are given to workingmen. Factories, shops and business offices are open on election days.

The farmer's wife has grown up in a country girl in the open air. In her youth she probably walked each day to school and back and each Sunday to church. She will not be daunted by a distance of a few miles to do a duty which will bring her in touch with social interests.

Rich women with servants to relieve them of household work and nurses or governesses to take charge of their children have time for whatever takes their fancies. It is, of course, particularly the wife and mother in the home who, it is believed, will have time to vote.

Men count eight hours a day's work, but the registered voter is not supposed to keep her permanently in prison within her four walls. If it is indeed true that such women are so hard driven, day after day, that they cannot even make any arrangement to leave their work for an hour or two a year, should not such a condition be changed?

Large Property Holders.

It would be misleading to think that the conditions of society bear so heavily upon women that they cannot leave their duties even for the few minutes necessary for voting and that their lives, in spite of easy means of communication and cheap daily papers, are so cut off from all communal interests that they have no chance for forming political opinions.

LOOKING ON BRIGHTEST SIDE

It Would Seem From This That the World Is Undergoing Something of an Improvement.

London fogs are reported to be growing less unpleasant, and a contemporary refers to a "marked improvement in their quality." If this euphonious way of talking of the substances of life becomes general we may shortly expect the following: Talking with a one-legged sailor at the docks yesterday, we learned that of late years there has been marked improvement in the quality of the sharkbites supplied in the Indian ocean. Not only are the creatures quicker off the mark, but a great deal more snap has of late been introduced into the performance from start to finish.

It is pleasant to be able to report a marked improvement in the quality of the squalls of our neighbor's baby. The pauses during which one feared that the child would choke are now of less frequent occurrence, and the loudest shrieks are timed to coincide less exactly with our struggles with particularly tricky sentences. Greater accomplishment, too, is being shown in the tremolo passages. Our wife also reports a marked improvement in the quality of the bawlers in our neighborhood. The clothes prop which one of them recently thrust in the doorway to prevent the closing of the door proved to be easily breakable when the door was slammed, and the portion left inside burned quite easily and saved at least one shovelful of coal.

London pedestrians are loud in praise of the marked improvement in the quality of the mud supplied by our motor buses. It is now comparatively rare to meet a man who spends more than two hours daily in brushing his clothes, and many of the best people have been able to reduce the wages of their valets in consequence. Few things have pleased us so much as the recent marked improvement in the quality of the colds and influenza in the metropolis. In fact, since the insurance act, more than one man has laid up with them of his own accord, and found the time of his incapacitation pass quite pleasantly.

This general amelioration in the conditions of life was first observed in the summer, when a marked improvement was noticed in the insects supplied at all the leading picnics. Tea at a ridge proved itself for the first time a far from unpleasant beverage, and even the wasps in the jam sediment got as far as the esophagus—a kindly attention that has won them the respect of all true nature lovers.—London Opinion.

Unexpected Gift.

He was a shy young man, but in his heart there raged a consuming passion for the fair Florence. On his way home from the city he managed to screw his courage up sufficiently to enter a jeweler's shop and purchase a small gift for the lady of his heart.

This, he hoped, would pave the way to the popping of the great question.

That night he called at her house and found her alone. Producing a small, square box from his pocket, he said nervously:

"I have ventured to bring you a small present, Miss Finn, but I am afraid that perhaps it will not fit your finger. Will you try it on?"

"Oh, dear," said the girl, blushing most becomingly, "this is quite unexpected! Why, I never dreamed that you really cared enough—"

Poor fool! Instead of grasping the opportunity in both hands, he opened the box and produced a thimble! Then the thermometer dropped about ten degrees.

New Post-Glacial Lake.

A new post-glacial lake has been discovered at the mouth of the River Tyne, in England. The lake stands about 100 feet above sea level and covers a square mile. Its existence was discovered apparently as the result of excavations during quarry building.

The series of deposits begin about 85 feet above sea level, and are 25 feet thick in places. A peculiar series of "concretions" and stalactite "infiltrations" were found in the sands and clays, and many specimens of vegetable remains in situ 20 feet below the surface. Post-glacial lakes, or their remains are more or less abundant all over the area originally covered by the great ice sheet of the glacial epoch, so that the mere discovery of the old beachen of another is not a thing of great geological importance. The location of this "Tyne-mouth" one and its height above sea level give it special interest, however.—New York Evening Post.

Autographs on a Rubbish Heap.

The discovery of some valuable autograph letters is reported from Alghero (Sardinia). A quantity of rubbish had been recently discharged on a heap in a field, when an army lieutenant who chanced to be passing by caught sight of what appeared to be Garibaldi's signature on a letter. He proceeded to examine a number of letters among the rubbish, and found that they were all genuine autograph letters written by Garibaldi, Cavour, Mazzini, King Carlo Alberto, King Victor Emmanuel and others, bearing mainly on the history of the period 1820 to 1860, and subsequent expert examination is reported to have established the fact that the documents are of real historical value apart from their obvious interest as autographs.

It is stated that the letters belonged to the family of Plecnelli, a house quite recently extinct, which played an important part during the wars of "Italian Independence."

Record By Wheat And Corn Crops in United States.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The import and farm crops of the United States this year are worth $5,068,741,000, or $101,000,000 more than the the value of ever raised.

The huge wheat crop and the increased price of that cereal, the large corn and apple crops, and the increased price of oats, barley and rye, more than offset the big loss in the value of the cotton crop resulting from the war.

VALUES OF CROPS.

The value of the important crops, base on the average prices paid to producers on November 1st, indicate that this year's wheat and corn crops are the most valuable ever grown in

The RECORD-PRESS is asked the reason for the apparent jubilation of the democratic officials representing Kentucky at the national capital based upon the elections of November third.

The inquirer adds: "The democratic party prior to this election had a positive majority in the House of 141, the November voting shows a decrease of 125, leaving a scant 11 or 15, hardly a decent working limit. The Senate is still democratic by about the same majority as before the election. The election of Penrose to the Senate from Pennsylvania and Uncle Joe Cannon to the House from Illinois by quite tremendous majorities suggests to Sen Ollie James that they are the logical candidates for President and Vice President on the republican ticket for the next presidential election. The Courier Journal seconds the idea and publishes the ticket under the log cabin insignia of the republican party. What is the joke?

To the man up a tree the democratic party received one of the biggest thrashings it has had for many years. In looking over the election results one cannot see much ground for democratic enthusiasm."

Replying to the above the RECORD-PRESS would suggest to the inquirer that he compare the off year election results as affecting the party in power with that of the opposition. It is a matter of record that either party responsible for a change in the national tariff, good or bad as it affects the country will suffer a loss of prestige, hence a number of indictments charges him with the paternity of the illegitimate child of all off years so called. Again the country that is the voters be Seeking to Recover Government Lands.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 18.—The government suit to recover 125,000 acres of valuable Arkansas timber land listed in the original survey as lakes, was on today's Old Fashioned Revival At The Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

It is seldom in this day and time of worldliness that an old fashioned revival can be carried on with such splendid results as are being obtained at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in this city. There has been about twenty professions up to this time, and the pastor Rev. J. T. Barber is greatly encouraged. Rev. Gwynn of Tennessee is doing the preaching and song evangelists Vaughan and Tallent are leading the singing which is an interesting feature at each service and notwithstanding the inclement weather the house has been filled to standing room most every evening.

Fred Lemon's Stable Burns.

The stable of Fred Lemon, the Maple street merchant, was destroyed by fire about 11:30 Wednesday night. The origin of the fire cannot be accounted for. A spark from a passing train may have set the hay on fire, as a train passed shortly before the alarm was given. Several tons of hay, chaff and fertilizer stored in the building were destroyed and also a lot of work harness. Mr. Lemon estimates his loss at $500. He had no insurance — Providence Enterprise.

Boston's Planing Mill And Lumber Yard.

Few, if any, of the enterprises in Marion, since the city was laid out almost three fourths of a century ago, have succeeded better and are on any more firm foundation than the Boston mills and lumber plant.

The growth of Marion and contiguous farming territory added to the great amount of material used for mining shafts and other buildings of all characters around these mines have lent valuable help to the splendid business sagacity and acumen of Mr. J. N. Boston the owner of this fine property. He has also had valuable help in the conduct of his office from his two sons, Messrs Maurie and Ted Boston.

Altogether its a strong team, and the equipment in the way of machinery and buildings is unsurpassed in this section of the state. Their new ware-rooms and offices near the I. C. Depot are not only immense but are stored with everything that goes into a house. Their machine shop and engine rooms and planing mills are now being reconstructed and enlarged, and at the same time not put out of commission. The larger building was put up, over, and around the older and smaller one.

They handle lime, cement, nails and all kinds of builders hardware and have recently installed a self measuring apparatus for gasoline where Motor can be filled and the gasoline measured and strained at the same time. This is a new invention and a patent well worth going a long distance to see. In fact few people in Marion know to what extent this business has grown and would be surprised to take a trip through all its departments and see its immensity.

Cookseyville Meeting.

On Monday night, Nov. 2nd., we began our meeting with Cookseyville church. We found the church in good working order and in fine shape for the meeting. Some twenty or more went forward for prayer at the first service.

The meeting continued ten days and nights with twenty-nine professions of faith and twenty-seven additions to the church, twenty by experience, four by restoration and three under watch care. On Thursday we buried thirteen with Christ in baptism, seven candidates not being ready for baptism at that time.

The meeting closed with the service at the water, but there was such a revival on, that two souls were happily saved in the community that night after the closing of the meeting and we hope many others will follow.

Elder W. W. Pugh, of near Princeton, did the preaching to the delight of all. Edward Woodall, of Crayne, had charge of the music, and did his part well. We found both of these brethren to be sweet spirited christians and noble work fellows.

Some of the noblest people of our country are found in this community. Our band of young folks here cannot be excelled.

We are rejoicing over the success of this meeting.

To God be all the glory,

U. G. Hughes, Pastor.

maid of honor, Maude Flanary, Katherine Yandell and Madeleine Jenkins, bridesmaids.

Messrs Maurie Boston, groom, Marvin Seyster, of Smithland, best man, Maurie Nunn, Douglas Clement and Willard Utley, of Eddyville.

A Buffet luncheon given by Miss Madeleine Jenkins complimenting to Miss Verna Pickens, on Monday evening, November 16 was one of the most enjoyable affairs given for the bride elect.

The table was beautifully decorated carrying out the color scheme of pink and yellow. A large bunch of yellow chrysanthemums banked in ferns formed the center-piece, outlined with large yellow candles. At each plate were the small yellow and pink candles supporting the place cards decorated with cupids and pink baskets held the pink and yellow mints.

The luncheon consisted of:—creamed oysters and mushrooms, salad and wafers, olives, pickles, sandwiches, cream, cake and coffee.

The wedding cake decorated in cherries was upheld by yellow roses.

The party included those of the wedding party, Miss Pickens, Miss Kirkpatrick of Greenville, Maid of Honor, and Misses Madeleine Jenkins, Maude Flanary and Katherine Yandell, Bridesmaids, and Miss Sallie Woods. The gentlemen were:—Messrs Boston, Seyster of Smithland, Clement, Nunn, and Utley of Eddyville.

One of the largest as well as one of the most beautiful entertainments of the fall season was the reception given in compliment to Mrs. Fleming Gordon by Mrs. M. K. Gordon and Mrs. W. L. Gordon, Jr. at 511 West Arch street, Saturday afternoon from two to six o'clock. The guests were met at the door by Mrs. Alex Lunsford and ushered into the parlor, where they were received by Mrs. Kirby Gordon, Mrs. W. L. Gordon, Jr., Mrs. Virgil Moore, Mrs. Henry Rodgers, of Earlington, and Mrs. Knapp, of Evansville. The home was a bower of loveliness with decorations of autumn leaves, chrysanthemums and potted plants. The autumn colors of red and gold predominating in the parlor, reception hall and library. Boughs of autumn leaves were hung in the doorways and yellow and white chrysanthemums were used about the reception rooms. In the library was the register, a dainty book artistically painted in autumn leaves presided over by Mrs. J. F. Dempsey.

Miss Maude Flanary entertained the bridal party very delightfully Monday with a luncheon. The color scheme, yellow and pink, was carried out beautifully in the table decorations. A five course luncheon was served, consisting of:

First: grapefruit. Second: dinner course of creamed chicken in timbrels, peas with creamed potatoes, celery and cranberries. Third: tomato jelly and cheese balls on lettuce. Fourth: apricot ice and cake. Fifth: coffee and pink and yellow mints.

Her guests included: Misses Verna Pickens, bride of Tuesday, Lucile Kirkpatrick, of Greenville, Delicious cake and jello were served by Misses Margaret McPheron, Lucy Faukett, Frances Arnold, Elizabeth Nisbet and Francis Elgin, while refreshing punch was served by Miss Laura Isabelle Lulfoom and Miss Neil Talley, of St. Petersburg, Fla.

Beautiful music was furnished during the afternoon and added to the enjoyment of the occasion. Mrs. Will Morton and Mrs. W. D. Morton of Nortonville, assisted the hostess in entertaining the large number of guests that enjoyed the charming hospitality and who were most glad to welcome Mrs. Gordon to our city.—Madisonville Hustler.

RHEUMATISM SOON BECOMES CHRONIC

The Result of Tired Kidneys Falling In Explosive Waste Matter.

Tired, over-worked kidneys allow poison to collect in the blood instead of expelling it from the system. That is the cause of rheumatism. The disease gets into some joint or group of muscles and settles there, until the strain and treatment will dislodge it.

Rheumatic patients bring out crystals hidden in the skin and muscles, causing the terrible pain, and pain them out of the system through the kidneys and bowels.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. Unless it purifies the organs become diseased. Rheumatics purify the blood and the kidneys then resume their normal activity.

J. H. Orme and Dr. Braggins sold Rheuma at a price so inexpensive that it is folly to be without it.
